Jean Monnet Guest Lecture Series 2019
The Politics of the European Union
- Central Structures and Processes of the EU

Location: Centre for Health & Science, University of Copenhagen, Room 5-1-16
For further information contact: hl@ifs.ku.dk or rhf@ifs.ku.dk

Friday 6 September 10-12
Henrik Larsen, Jean Monnet Professor, Department of Political Science, UCPH
An introduction to the European Union Politic

Friday 13 September 10-12
Ole Ryborg, EU-Correspondent for DR
After Brexit and the latest EP election, where is Euroscepticism today?

Friday 27 September 10-12
Jakob Ørhgaard, Political Advisor at the European Commission’s Representation in Denmark
Present and future role of the Commission in the EU and its development

Friday 4 October 10-12
Christel Schaldemose, Member of the European Parliament (S&D)
Present and future role of the European Parliament in the EU and its development

Friday 11 October 10-12
Theresa Scavenius, Associate Professor at Department of Planning, Aalborg University
The EU as a green actor - The EU’s work on environment and climate issues

Friday 25 October 10-12
Ma Yi, PhD fellow at Department of Political Science, University of Copenhagen
Soft law governance in EU: Lessons from the European Semester

Tuesday 5 November 10-12
Ben Rosamond, Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, University of Copenhagen
Newer integration theories and how to explain European integration

Friday 8 November 10-12
Jesper Jespersen, Professor Emeritus at Roskilde University
The Euro and national sovereignty: what have we learned?

Friday 15 November 10-12
Niels Lindberg Madsen, Senior adviser at Danish Agriculture & Food Council
The EU’s policy-making - The view from the lobby

Friday 22 November 10-12
Ditte Maria Brasso Sørensen (PhD), EU Special Advisor at Greater Copenhagen EU Office
Issues of democracy and legitimacy in the EU

Friday 29 November 10-12
Kim Jørgensen, Ambassador at the Permanent Representation of Denmark to the European Union
The EU after the Lisbon Treaty - Current challenges and possibilities